

ANVIL CLOSE (off Worthing Road)

Anvil Close was named after the smithy, opposite the Old Post Office (See THE CHESTNUTS), that was used by Thomas Kilner. He was described by Henry Smith as "a fine, big man, whose hearty laugh could often be heard in the village".