

P IPERS CLOSE

Pipers Close was named after the family who owned the land and was the site of an earlier property called the Red House. Other Piper land on the opposite side of the road was used by the football club and for the annual visit of the fair, both free of charge. (See RED HOUSE)